6. Process of Selection

6.1 Mandatory elements

- 6.1.1 Mandatory player residential and other requirements for selection outlined in Section 4 cannot be waived by the Selectors. Players not meeting any of these criteria cannot be selected to represent Australia.
- 6.1.2 Any player who accepts an invitation issued by Croquet Australia for an international event and fails to play in that event without good reason shall not be considered for selection in any international event for at least the next 12 months. If a player is unable to play in an event that the player has been selected for, both the Selectors and the individual player involved should resolve this immediately. If the Selectors, after considering the facts, do not believe that good reason has been shown, the player is not eligible to be selected to represent Australia for the period determined by the Selectors. The player may appeal this decision under the appeals processes detailed in Section 9 below.

6.2 Playing Performance

- 6.2.1 Selection of players to represent Australia will be based on playing performance during International and National events. State and other events, with good representation of players who compete at Interstate Cup level, may also be used by the Selectors. The Selectors may specify other events that may also be included in the assessment of individual player performances. Players need to be conscious of the timeframes specified in 6.2.3 to ensure that they participate in events that will be considered by the Selectors.
- 6.2.2 Selectors may publicly specify that players' performances in a set of specific events shall be a contributing factor in the process of selection.

- 6.2.3 The Selectors will normally only consider events that have been conducted in the last 12 months, unless the Selectors otherwise specify.
- 6.2.4 Players' performances will be assessed on match results against other players both in singles and doubles games. Selectors may take into account the latest national and international rankings in the selection process.
- 6.2.5 The following criteria (applying to both Association and Golf Croquet unless otherwise specified) will also be used to assess player performance:
- success rate of triple peeling, including delayed triple peeling (Association Croquet only),

 - a low percentage of unforced errors in match play,
 - tactical knowledge,

 - physical fitness covering strength, flexibility and endurance as assessed by the national squad/team coach,
- 6.3.2 Any issues that arise concerning a player's performance under this heading will only be taken into account where those issues arose within the last 2 years, unless the player concerned has been advised by the selectors of issues that go back beyond this timeframe.

6.4 Counselling Process

- 6.4.1 Players should be made aware of issues, in terms of 6.3 above which may affect their chances of selection to represent Australia.
- 6.4.2 To ensure players are aware of these issues and to provide the opportunity for players to discuss them with Selectors; the Chairperson of the Selection Committee, or the Chairperson's delegate, will be responsible for liaising with players in any National squad and other players in contention for selection.

6.4.3 The Selectors will only consider issues that fall within the timeframe covered by 6.2.3 and 6.3.2 above.

6.4.4 Issues discussed with players shall be documented. Players will be provided with a copy of this document. Preferably this will be an agreed record of discussion between the Chairperson of Selectors, or the Chairperson's delegate, and the player concerned. If any dispute arises concerning this record of discussion the Chairperson of the Selection Committee shall attempt to resolve this. If the issue is not resolved in one month the record of discussion prepared by the Chairperson, or the Chairperson's delegate, will become the record for purposes of the Selection Committee.

6.5 Extenuating circumstances

6.5.1 In considering the performance of players at events, trials, training camps or other attendances required under this policy, the Selection Committee may give weight to extenuating factors.

- 7.3 Selection timeframes for International individual events will be determined by the Selectors, taking into account the closing date of entries for the event and the desirability to provide sufficient time for selected players to prepare for the event.

Attachment “A” - Player Code of Behaviour

PLAYER CODE OF BEHAVIOUR

Sport has an important place in the lives of many Australians. We participate for different reasons, from social interaction to serious competition, but for some it all gets a little too serious.

Everyone involved in sport has the right to participate in a safe and supportive environment. Sometimes players, coaches, spectators and parents, get over zealous and spoil the experience for others. They need to be reminded that there are appropriate forms of behaviour when involved in sport.

Croquet Australia is keen to have strong Codes of Conduct in place and to actively encourage players and officials Australia-wide to abide by them. Croquet Australia is also striving to build an environment of inclusiveness where we look to welcome and encourage our members to achieve positive outcomes.

Competitive sport by its very nature produces stresses and tensions between players that can produce unacceptable behaviour. The will to win instinct needed for success can easily turn to disrespect of opponents and officials. In croquet where we play mostly singles, we have little experience in the giving and taking required in doubles and team play. We can, once or a few times a year, go from singles adversaries to doubles partners, individuals to pennant and state team members, state team rivals to Australian teammates. But it is still very much an individualistic sport.

We bring to the sport our greatest asset – our individuality. We bring different views of the world and different experiences. We have different needs and aspirations; and we express these needs differently and some not at all. So it is not unexpected that in any grouping of players there will be things we say and do that will annoy others and vice versa.

In team sports selectors, coaches and officials are looking to combine individual talents to build a team. Within this team individuals shall not only be expected to respect each other, but also work together so that each individual's skills are enhanced in a positive encouraging environment.

- Play by the rules.
- Never argue with an official. If you disagree, have your captain, coach or manager approach the official during a break or after the competition.
- Control your temper. Verbal abuse of officials and sledging other players, deliberately distracting or provoking an opponent are not acceptable or permitted behaviours in any sport.
- Work equally hard for yourself and/or your team. Your team's performance will benefit, so will you.
- Actively support and encourage team members and assist the team coach in developing a working relationship in the team so as to promote a responsible attitude, commitment, trust, competence, respect, safety, honesty, professionalism, equity and sportsmanship among team members.
- Be a good sport. Applaud all good plays whether they are made by your team or the opposition.

- Treat all participants in your sport as you like to be treated. Do not bully or take unfair advantage of another competitor.
- Cooperate with your coach, team mates and opponents. Without them there would be no competition.
- Remember, you set an example. Your behaviour and comments should be positive and supportive.
- Participate for your own enjoyment and benefit, not just to please parents and coaches.
- Respect the rights, dignity and worth of all participants regardless of their gender, ability, cultural background or religion.
- Selected players shall not comment on team selection or team members.

Croquet Australia is concerned that any unacceptable behaviour outlined above would seriously affect our sport and prevent the high standard of play we are striving to promote. We wish to inform you that we will take a strong stance on behavioural issues.

The Selection Committee wants to be inclusive and encourages everyone to start afresh in helping us build a supportive environment. To this end we will discuss with all players in the Development and Team squads issues arising from the Selection Policy and the discussions will be held in terms of that policy document.

So be a winner – be positive and help us build a better croquet-playing environment.
